ABOUT ME

Technical Product Manager & Educational Technologist specialized in architecting data-driven digital products and learning environments. Leveraging experience across startup ecosystems and initiatives like Google AI & Tech Academy, I align technical development (Python, TypeScript, C++) with human-centered UI/UX design and product strategy. Proven track record in guiding cross-functional teams from MVP to deployment, building interactive simulation modules, and optimizing platform engagement through behavioral analytics. Currently serving as a Student Programming Tutor at Saarland University.
